Te.egrams to this effect were received about 6:30 p. m. yesterday by State Attorney James A. Farmer. Sheriff Wash Thompson and Attorney Charles Karch, who defended Evans and who made a personal appeal to Governor Yates for executive elemency in the case.

All arrangements for the hanging had been made by Sheriff Thompson. The death watch had been placed on Evansearly yesterday morning and the drop on the gallows had been given a final test. Sheriff Thompson fixed the time of the execution at a few minutes past 8 a. m. and the jury was already selected and notified.

the Jury was already selected and notified.

Evans had been attended by a preacher and, although he expressed some hope of a reprieve, he asserted that he was ready to dle if necessary.

Evans was the only man sentenced to hang in Belleville for the last dozen years. The crime for which he was sentenced was, according to the witnesses, a cold-blooded murder. He first robbed Lawson, a one-armed white man, from Mount Vernon, and then shot him through the heart. Policeman Mulqueeney arrested the negro and saved him from being lynched.

Attorney Charles Karch of Belleville was appointed to defend Evans, He made strong efforts to secure a new trial, but was refused, and then he appealed to Governor Tates for a committation of the death sentence. RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

Although Evans had hoped for the intervention of Governor Yates, he was so overcome that he was unable to talk after he was assured by Sheriff Thompson that he was not to hang. One Member Declares That This
